Transcript of video titled “Part of Me featuring Angela Matney”

Caption: Tell me consents on page 19.

(Sound of screen reader)

So, you know, then if I say, "Did it just say the definition of consent?" Yes, it did. That's on page 20. Implied consent 24.

So, you know, I'll use those tools together, you know, to navigate the document and get the information that I need.

Audio description: She uses her braille display as title appears, “Part of Me featuring Angela Matney of Loeb & Loeb LLP.”

Caption: (Sound of screen reader)

I'm an attorney. I am a privacy nerd. Um, I mean, I — I there are a lot of things about me that I want people to notice.

I want people to know that I take my work seriously. My career is important to me.

It's OK for them to perceive me as blind because being blind is, you know, a part of me. It's a part of my identity ...

Audio description: She walks outside with her colleague.

Caption: … in a lot of ways, but certainly not the only thing about me that's significant.

I'm an attorney. I'm a mom. You know, all these things matter, too.

Audio description: She responds to an email on her iPhone.

Caption: (Sound of screen reader)

I don’t always disclose that I'm blind because it just doesn't — it's just not a thing that you say, "Hi, I'm your blind attorney, Angie, and let's, you know, work on this project."

But, um, if it comes up, I don't, you know, it's not something that I hesitate to — to mention.

(Sound of screen reader)

So this is my colleague, Robyn, asking me if I have a minute to chat about the GDPR.
We spend many of our minutes chatting about the GDPR.

Audio description: She enters a conference room with her colleague.

Caption: ...delivery black on white normal. Angela Matney, do you have a minute later today to chat about the GDPR questions. Next.)

I'll see firms applaud their initiatives, and rightly so …

Audio description: She sits behind her desk.

Caption: ...you know, to make things better for women attorneys, attorneys of color, attorneys, you know, who are LGBTQ.

All these things are great. We need — we need that. But, disability diversity is very real, and, um, there I think are still a good number of barriers for people with disabilities who want to enter the legal profession.

Audio description: End credits appear “Produced by Annie Pancak and Steven Trader”